

2012 Local Government Alumni Conference

Pre-Conference Event Cocktails & Conversation

Thursday, November 1 @ 7.30pm

New for 2012, we've added a pre-conference event – the opportunity to have cocktails and conversation with a leading thinker in the field of local government.

Brock Carlton is the Chief Executive Officer for the Federation of Canadian Municipalities (FCM). Since joining FCM 20 years ago, Carlton has established himself as a leader on municipal issues, both domestically and internationally. He managed ideas, resources and opportunities to build FCM's global program, which focuses on strengthening municipal government and local governance, and on enhancing policy frameworks toward local sustainability. Carlton was recently recognized as one of the top 100 lobbyists in Canada.

Join Brock Carlton for an evening of cocktails and conversation about the changing role of municipalities within intergovernmental relations, and for a national perspective on the key challenges facing local governments in the future.

Tickets are limited. Cash bar available. Doors open at 7pm.
